Cornelius, OR

3 Beds, 2 Baths - 1,986 sq/ft - $700,000

You've been dreaming about a little slice of heaven in the country for along time. Not too big, not too small. Close-in without taking an hour to get somewhere. Something with the fresh smell of hay by day and the brilliant stars at night. The kind of place that sets your imagination to wondering what if we built a small barn? What about an outbuilding for projects and tinkering ... That hobby that you've wanted to take up but didn't have space to put it down. A home where it's a bit of blank slate in that you can make your mark on it and the property. Where little white lights are strung and sunsets are magical. In your practical dreams it's got to be 1-level and not a typical house and no stairs for you know, down the road way down the road. But a property and a home that is inspiring,
